

Competition Guidelines:

1. It must represent something that exists in real life
2. It must be something that YOU find beautiful. That's right, the theme of the pieces are completely up to you. Find something that you love to see. It can be a person, place, landscape, animal, absolutely anything. There will be two brackets for competition; one for handmade art (paintings, drawings, etc.) and one for photographic entries.
3. Judging for the competition will be done by Sally Grigas (Drawing and Painting Studio Art Instruction, Nashua NH).
4. The winner for each bracket will be awarded $25 (This is subject to change. A greater number of participants will increase the award value, so tell all your friends about the competition. 5. A certificate under the winner's name signed by Dr. Ehsan Hoque (Founder & Executive Director of DCI) and Dr. Brian DeBroff (President of DCI and Professor at Yale University) will also be awarded.
6. We are always open to partnering with students, high schools, and community clubs to join a mission of common interests.
7. For more information, please contact dc@distressedchildren.org and we will get back to you as soon as possible.
8. All photos submitted to the competition are the property of DCI. By submitting your photo(s) you provide consent for DCI to use the photos on its website or in publications for purposes of raising awareness or fundraising for underprivileged children according to its discretion.

Please, share this post on your story! You may be the winner, so up your prize!